MELVILLE E. INGALLS, RAILROAD CAPITALIST, FORMER PRES. C. & O. DEAD AT HOT SPRINGS

Hot Springs, Va., July 11.—Melville E. Ingalls, 72, financier and prominent railroad man of Cincinnati, died suddenly here today from heart failure.

Mr. Ingalls had been at his summer home here for some time with members of his family and had been gradually declining for months, but his illness had been more marked during the past two weeks. Three days ago he suffered from an ulcerated tooth and the shock of the treatment was fatal.

The body will be taken to Cincinnati tomorrow evening and the funeral will take place at 2 p. m. Monday at the Unitarian church there.

Besides the widow and daughter he leaves four sons, Melville E. Ingalls, Jr., and Fay Ingalls, of New York; George H. Ingalls, of Chicago, and Albert S. Ingalls, of Cleveland.

No statement was made here today on behalf of the family as to the extent of the dead man's estate, further than that there was a will. It was said that he had withdrawn from many of his business interests and disposed of them to those he wanted to have them.

Mr. Ingalls was chairman of the board of directors of the Big Four railroad, the transportation line with which his name was most closely identified, although he was a powerful figure in what generally is known as the Vanderbilt group of railroads.

Besides his home here he had a home in Cincinnati and a new one in Washington.

He was president of the C. & O. from 1888 to 1900, was Democratic candidate for mayor of Cincinnati in 1903 and president of the National Civic Federation in 1905. He was also interested in banking in Cincinnati. He was born in Maine in 1842.

The money was in the safety deposit box of the Freehold bank in the vault of the Colonial Trust company.

The Battleship Nevada Is Fighting Monster

Quincy, Mass., July 11.—Turbine engines and oil fuel will furnish the motive power of the 27,500 ton battleship Nevada to be launched at the yards of the Fore River Shipbuilding company today. This latest addition to the United States navy is a sister ship of the Oklahoma, launched at Camden, N. J., last March. It is expected to be placed in commission next January.

The Nevada has a length over all of 583 feet, beam 95 feet and mean draft of 28½ feet, and her estimate of speed is 20½ knots. The arrangement of the main battery of 10 14-inch guns will be different from that of any other battleship in the United States navy. Two turbines will carry two guns each and two others will have three guns each, an arrangement which it is thought will give a concentration of fire superior to that of five two-gun patterns as exemplified in the New York and Texas.

STEAMER IS ASHORE

Buenos Ayres, July 11.—The German steamship Mendoza went ashore today in a fog off Megotes Point on the Argentine coast. She has 257 people on board, including passengers and crew, and telegraphed via wireless that her position is dangerous.

Wanted To Dance With Belle, Two Men Dying In Hospital

New York, July 11.—A heated quarrel to see who would get to dance with the belle of Greenwich village—identity unknown, early resulted in two men being seriously wounded and the breaking up the dance in the wildest excitement. To get money for the defense of Thomas Burns in the Tombs for grand larceny, a dance was given by the Robert Kelley association. "Social lights" from the East Side and Brooklyn turned out in force. John C. Borst insisted on dancing with Greenwich's village belle and the man who took her to the dance drew his revolver and Borst fell with three bullets in his groin and abdomen. Jasper H. Oliver attempted to avenge Borst's shooting and dropped with a bullet in the leg. When told that he was dying after being taken to the hospital he insisted he could not identify his assailant.

"Don't Run, Teddy," Is Plea Of Moosers

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 11. Protests from Progressive leaders in all parts of the country against the proposal that Col. Roosevelt run for governor of New York perused in on the former president today by mail and wire. Sufficient time had elapsed since the attempt of the New York leaders to win him last Wednesday to bring in letters from the south and west. In virtually every instance Col. Roosevelt was urged to stay out of the race. In this dilemma Col. Roosevelt has determined to remain silent and let the riddle solve itself.

WHITACRE'S PLATFORM, FAVORS 'HOME RULE'

Akron, O., July 11. The managers of Congressman J. Whitacre, Democratic candidate for governor today supplemented his platform with a list of things he proposes to do if elected. Among the most important are Home Rule for cities and counties, Home Rule for schools, Home Rule in election of all school directors, assessors and liquor commissioners in counties and curtailment of appointive powers of the governor. The statement charged Gov. Cox with being jealous of Governor Harmon's achievements and had caused him to destroy the Smith 1 per cent law.

Bismarck, Wash., July 11.—Death come today to two railroad men and a boy when fire destroyed the two lumber mills owned by the Bismarck County Mill company. Fifteen railroad men and mill employees were injured, one fatally. Three bodies were taken from under the train.

MRS. CARMAN, WIFE OF DOCTOR IN WHOSE HOUSE MRS. BAILEY WAS MURDERED, AND HER DICTAGRAPH

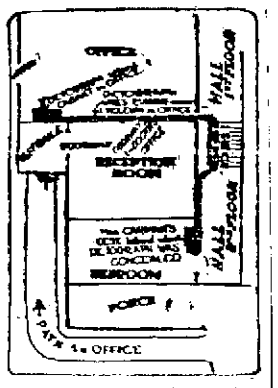

Diagram Showing How a Doctor's Wife Spied on Him When Women Patients Called, With the Aid of a Dictagraph From His Office to Her Bedroom on the Floor Above.

Mrs. Edwin Carman, wife of the Freeport, L. I., doctor in whose home Mrs. William Bailey was assassinated, is a handsome woman, as her photograph shows. Mrs. Bailey called on the doctor, who says he did not know her, and after spending an hour was about to leave with a prescription he had given her. A hand smashed the glass of the window of the office on the ground floor; a pistol was pushed through and Mrs. Bailey was shot dead.

The mother and sister of Mrs. Carman say that at the time the doctor's wife was lying on her bed in a room upstairs suffering from a headache. They went down when they heard the shot, leaving her there.

Mrs. Carman, it developed later, had been jealous of her husband. She had seen him kiss a nurse in his office. She did not like the visits of women there. So she had a dictagraph installed from his office to her bedroom, and she often listened to his conversations with women patients. On the occasion of Mrs. Bailey's visit, she said, she was not listening.

The dictagraph was put in a few weeks ago from a cabinet in the doctor's office to a desk in Mrs. Carman's bedroom. Shortly after the killing it was torn out and hidden. When detectives in the house found the wires Mrs. Carman did not hesitate to tell the whole story of having it placed in the house.

Investigators have been greatly puzzled by the murder. Four days after it occurred there was not an intelligent suggestion as to motive or murderer.

NEW EVIDENCE IS FOUND IN THE BAILEY MURDER

New York, July 11—Nassau county officials found important new evidence in the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey, at Freeport today, when they learned that a neighbor boy, employed by Dr. Edwin Carman shortly before last Christmas, stated that the physician had a blue steel 38-calibre revolver at his house where it might be seen at all times by members of the family, including Mrs. Carman, who is charged with the murder.

This evidence caused a search for the weapon to be redoubled. A number of 38-calibre bullets were found in the attic of the Carman home before the doctor's wife was arrested. It was a 38-calibre bullet that killed Mrs. Bailey. Dr. Carman has denied having owned such a revolver, declaring that the only one he owned was a 32-calibre revolver, and an old rusty one that he kept in the garage.

New York, July 11. From her little room in a corner of the jail at Mineola, Mrs. Florence Carman today is said the orders upon which her husband and her lawyer will work to free her from incarceration on the charge that she murdered Mrs. Louise Bailey.

Mrs. Carman took full charge of her defense and the work to prove that she did not shoot Mrs. Bailey to death in the office of her husband, Dr. Edwin Carman, at Freeport.

Attorney Levy did not seem particularly pleased by the activity of his client. Convinced that the occupants of the Carman home can clear up the mystery, District Attorney Smith intimated today that he would again question Mrs. Platt Conklin, aged mother of Mrs. Carman. Mrs. Conklin is seriously ill, but the District Attorney is determined to secure from her all knowledge that she has of the events occurring in the Carman residence on the night of the murder.

In this connection the police are working on a new theory that two men were implicated in the assassination, that one broke the window of Dr. Carman's office to attract the attention of the physician and Mrs. Bailey, and that the other fired through the door of the office from the kitchen pantry.

Sheriff Pettit today received a second letter from the woman who wrote him yesterday confessing that she killed Mrs. Bailey. This letter, like the first one, was mailed at Station L in Brooklyn, and read as follows: "Why don't you take some action. Why don't you attempt to find me. Dr. Carman can give directions."

CRISIS IN MEXICO CITY

There are 61 branch banks throughout the republic, many being in cities which have been captured by the rebels, but a special train reached here ready to start for Puerto, Mexico, with many former government officials and Mexicans who are expected to flee from the capital.

CORRESPONDENT'S STORY OF SCRAP AT VERA CRUZ HAS STIRRED UP BIG MESS RELATIVE "LAW OF FIGHT"

Vera Cruz, Mex., July 11. Congressional investigation to determine whether American marines shot down and killed unarmed fleeing Mexicans under the old Mexican "law of fight" during the occupation of Vera Cruz may be the result of the order to deport F. L. Boalt, correspondent of the Newspaper Enterprise, from Vera Cruz to the United States.

Boalt says he got the story from the battleship Arkansas. He said Ensign A. W. Richardson of the battleship Arkansas and other officers had told him that he and his marines had fired upon the unarmed and fleeing Mexicans during the occupation of Vera Cruz, after telling the Mexicans to run fog their lives. The turn of the matter here today aroused the most intense interest. The investigation will now be turned from the deportation question to whether or not the American marines had killed the Mexicans after ordering them to flee.

That he had heard naval officers refer to the application of "law of fugitive" to Mexicans during the occupation of this city, was the testimony of William G. Shepard, staff correspondent of the United Press, today before the naval board of inquiry sitting on the battleship Texas. Shepard had been summoned to the inquiry into the charges against William Richardson, which developed from a story written by Fred A. Boalt. Boalt, at first ordered deported, has been freed and the attention of the committee turned towards Richardson.

In his testimony Shepard said he had heard stories of "law of fugitive" and that these stories had been told by naval officers in his presence. One story was that of a number of Mexican prisoners being locked in a house. Then upon a sign, the story went, they were released and fired upon. It was said some of them were killed.

"Do you believe 'ley de fuga' was practiced by American marines?" asked Capt. Grant, one of the three members of the board of inquiry.

"It seems incredible to me, but I took the word of the officers for it, considering the navy code for truthfulness. I later heard that Ensign Richardson had practiced 'ley de fuga,' but was told had suffered from a sun stroke during the battle. I tried to attribute the story to the sun stroke."

"Did you hear of anyone being unlawfully killed in Vera Cruz?"

"I don't know what unlawful killing in war means," said Shepard.

"Did Ensign Richardson tell you of anyone being killed?"

"I heard him say, 'We let a Mexican get within two feet of safety behind a wall and then fired and got him,'" said Shepard.

"When he said 'we' did he mean his machine squad?"

"He might have been talking of his own squad or the landing squad in general," said Shepard.

Congress Has Now Taken Hand

Washington, July 11. A resolution directing the war and navy department to submit to the house all papers in the case of Fred L. Boalt, newspaper man, who was ordered deported because of stories he sent out regarding the American marines firing on fleeing Mexicans, was introduced in the house today by Representative Palconer, of Washington.

Details Of River Route Decided On

Ironton, O., July 11.—According to the present plans of the promoters of the Ironton-Portsmouth traction line, the work on the line will begin within a short time and will be complete in two years. Phil Wickerham, an engineer who is surveying for the company was in the city Friday and stated that the route of the road had been mapped out and that the work of securing rights of way is now going on and while there was some difficulty this was expected and the difficulty was not near so great as had been anticipated.

The company officials expect to have the road in to Wheelersburg before the end of the present year.

The course of the road through Scioto county has been previously given but the course from Haverhill to this city has been indefinite but if the river route is decided upon it will be as follows:

The line will pass east of the Methodist church at Haverhill and will come parallel with the turnpike to Joe Thompson's farm where it will cross to the east side of the N. & W. with an overhead crossing. Then the route will follow the east side of the N. & W. to the Vaughn Hill where it will once more parallel the turnpike running on high ground and above Rock where the turnpike will be crossed by another overhead crossing. It will then follow its course east of the N. & W. railway tracks to this city where it will enter at Fifth and Elm streets.

Altogether, according to Wickerham the prospects for the road being finished at the time expected seem very bright.

Mrs. Rickey has been a resident of this city for 21 years and has always borne a good name. She is a widow and the charge against her is a mark against her good name. This is the first time Mrs. Rickey was ever in trouble since taking up her abode in Portsmouth.

Splendid Medicine Stomach Trouble

I Suffered for Several Years Peruna Restored My Health

Mrs. Elizabeth Reuther, No. 608 Twelfth St., N. W., Washington, D. C., writes: "I am pleased to endorse Peruna as a splendid medicine for catarrh and stomach trouble, from which I suffered for several years. I took it for several months and at the end of that time found my health was restored and have felt splendidly ever since. I now take it when I contract a cold and it soon rids the system of any catarrhal tendencies.

Over Ten Years Ago.

"I would not be without Peruna. Although it was over ten years ago that I first gave you my testimonial I am of the same opinion as when I wrote it, and give you the privilege to use it as you see fit. I still use Peruna when I think it necessary. I am recommending it to my neighbors whenever a chance occurs."

I Still Praise Peruna.

Peruna is undoubtedly a splendid medicine for the stomach. A great many people are in need of such a remedy. Daily they come [illegible] are cured. This remedy is especially helpful in cases of weakness of the stomach. Those who prefer to take tablets instead of liquid medicines can get Peruna Tablets.

THE GOVERNORSHIP.

While there are contests for the gubernatorial nomination in both the Democratic and Republican parties in Ohio, which are to be settled at the primaries August 11th, interest mainly centers in the Republican contest. On the Democratic side it is conceded that Governor Cox will be renominated by an overwhelming majority over Congressman John J. Whitacre, of Canton. In fact even the most sanguine of Whitacre's followers do not expect him to make much of a showing, while Whitacre himself, in an interview, shows that he is discouraged over the outlook and it is current gossip that his name will not go on the ballot.

On the Republican side, however, there is a lively contest between Congressman Frank B. Willis, of Ada, and ex-Senator David Tod, of Youngstown. But for the fact that Republican leaders in the large cities are afraid of the effect of Willis' well known dry proclivities, it is conceded that he would be an easy winner. As it is the powerful city organizations have declared against Willis and are bending every energy to nominate Tod. On the other hand this has stirred the rural districts and newspapers into lively support of Willis and the battle has resolved itself into one of city against country, the cities for Tod and the country for Willis. In this sort of contest with a light vote in prospect, chances would seem to favor Tod, for the city organizations will undoubtedly get out a much larger percentage of votes than will be cut in the country. Willis, however, is making a game fight and is doing his utmost to stir up enough enthusiasm among the rural voters to induce them to go to the polls on primary day. Undoubtedly his personality is more pleasing and captivating than that of Tod, but it is doubtful if he will be able to rally enough votes to overcome the majorities Tod will have in the large cities.

Locally, while little is heard on the surface as to the gubernatorial fight, organization Republicans are generally for Tod, feeling he stands the better chance in a contest with Cox. There is a strong Willis sentiment however, and he will undoubtedly receive a strong vote, although Tod is expected to carry the county.

COMMUNITY CHURCHES.

There is some opposition to community churches, that is the consolidation of a number of congregations of different denominations. One often hears the argument offered that such consolidation will make the church organization stronger and reduce much the expense of maintaining the greater number. This proposition from a commercial standpoint appeals to one, but there is something about it that is too worldly. A removal of denominations to a great degree destroys the ambition of the individual church to move on and grow stronger and more helpful to its members and to society. Members of the various denominations have their own respective methods of church conduct and discipline. All are traveling toward the same goal of religious hope, the same goal, but by different routes within hailing distances of each other. Yet there surrounds the denomination a halo akin to that enveloping the happy home and there is a spirit of attachment and affection that cannot be found in the unification of varied beliefs. It would be too much like moving a number of families under one roof to sit and eat at the same table. The novelty of it would soon wear off for soon one or the other would desire to dominate in the little neighborhood kingdom, and a row would result that would destroy much of the original good and therefore disrupt the little community.

VISIT FROM AN OLD FRIEND.

We had a most delightful little visit Thursday from W. V. Simmons, who for more than thirty years was an active newspaper man of Portsmouth. Mr. Simmons was identified with the old Portsmouth Blade in its palmy days as business manager, retaining his interests up until a few years ago when he sold out to locate in Florida. His old friends will be pleased to learn that Mr. Simmons has regained his health and that the sunny clime of Florida has proven a veritable fountain of youth to him. He is looking better and is feeling better than he has for many years and attributes it to the vigorous outdoor, near to nature life he has been leading.

While enthusiastic about his new home, Mr. Simmons retains an interest in Portsmouth and Southern Ohio and rejoices in anything that adds to the prosperity and growth of his old home.

We are glad to see our old newspaper contemporary healthy, happy and prosperous and when he goes back to his Southern home we will carry with him our best wishes, along with those of many other friends, for the future.

Mr. Jones, who sought to get on the reserve bank board, may know to the fullest satisfaction how popular those who are identified with the Harvester trust are with most everybody including the senate of the United States. Smith and Brown would have had more sense than to have tried it.

Secretary Fred Williams got to tell them what he thought of Villa and this is a pleasure and a relief to the most of us besides Fred.

The dispatches tell us of a Kansas girl who placed her arms around a chauffeur and the car went into the ditch. Further on the article gave the sad announcement that her funeral was to be held next Sunday at 1 o'clock. Moral: Girls, do not put your arms about the chauffeur while his hands are on the wheel.

There isn't the slightest suspicion that Huerta will ask for a recount of the vote cast last Sunday.

THE DECEPTIVE TABLET.

There are a few things in this life that a person never saw and never heard of and that is a paragrapher's name on a bridge or water work's tablet. Yet if the facts arising from the history of the water works proposition were truthfully written, as well as those of every other public improvement, the name of a newspaper writer would appear as the chief promoter of the enterprise who did more to arouse public sentiment in behalf of it than all other mediums. The only difference is the newspaper man gets his rewards in the hereafter and hasn't time to seek those made with earthly hands.

THAT MILLINERY BILL.

It is unnecessary for one to inquire whether the reduction in the cost of living includes the cost of wearing, for we are convinced already that such does not apply to millinery. Small hats have been decreed to be the proper thing for fall wear. Is there any one in the sound of our voice so foolish as to believe that these smaller hats will cost less than those cart wheels of awhile ago that milady had to take off and turn edgeways in order to enter a railway coach, although the material in them is many times less than in those majestic affairs? Of course not. We will fall for any sort of a price so long as we have it and it will be a most depressing period indeed that will require poor man to withhold one farthing from the millinery allowance of the better seven-eighths of this country.

Those of us who expected Villa and Carranza to split up and divide their armies and start a family row that everybody knows is the worst sort of a row because there is no reason on either side, will have to wallow in disappointment as they have submitted to a patched-up peace, which is most commendable on the part of both considering the situation. If the two will close their ears to the confidences of the tale-bearer there may be some hope that they will remain friends until the end. But as in domestic life, made-up friends should beware of the confidential tale-bearer, the most dangerous villian unhung.

BLESSED IS THE PEACEMAKER

George Fred Williams will have only a brief stay as American minister to Greece and Montenegro, because he offered the services of himself as a mediator in the Balkan row over there when he was not authorized so to do by the authorities at Washington. George Fred must have thought that mediation had been incorporated into the statutory law of his country and he was duly authorized and a free agent to step in and reduce a family row to a flattery match when nothing too good could be said about one another. George Fred, parrot-like, has talked too much and will have the pleasure of returning to the country of his nativity as a private citizen which may dampen his ardor as a professional peacemaker.

If all those captains of industry are satisfied with Mr. Wilson's program of legislation the members of the grand united order of uplifters of the universe have no complaints to make or grievances to offer, for there is one who tempers the wind for the shorn lamb and has never failed them or caused them to worry over such a small thing as that.

Anyway it will not be long until us poor creeping mortals of the dust will not be responsible for all the vicious legislation in the country. Madame will be sorry that she ever entered politics when she begins to shoulder some of the public responsibility. It will be perfectly lovely for us old cud-seat hogs to sit back and say "She done it, the gabot."

VOTELESS ELECTIONS.

It is really unfair for one to laugh at that Mexican election because about only two per cent of the vote of that country participated in it. In this good state of Ohio there have been charter elections where but twenty per cent of the electorate has performed and about eighteen per cent of it were professional hangers-on who were run into the polls at the urging of the politicians who were endeavoring to get those out that were in and themselves installed in their places. All we have to do is just to think about home conditions before we begin to boast. There are a number of Southern states in this enlightened country where not an average of ten per cent of the males over twenty-one years of age have voted for the past ten years, yet they have a representation equal to three or four Ohioans. So it does not become us to scoff in the face of facts.

There are decidedly too many "dead men's curves" along the pike where we like to speed and it would be well for the road overseers to straighten them out so we can whizz along with nothing in the way but the people who own the roads and paid for building them.

There is much discussion about moving up the hour of worship on Sunday mornings and many communities have adopted the new plan and find that it works well, as it gives more time for rest during the heated period of the day and does away with the rush and anxiety of the housewife about the Sunday dinner.

A layman cannot appreciate the appearance of those white suits until he hears a laundryman say that they are the proper things to wear. An unbiased opinion of a man who has no direct interest is worth something.

That physician who caused the colonel to be quiet, performed a national service better than he knew for which he should have all the credit.

It must be confessed that our mayor has qualified unanimously for election as a full fledged, front rank member of the Alibi Club, even if he was a little slow in joining the "monumenters."

Henry Ford has told the President that there should be no alarm that business is all right, just as though we had not read it every day in one of Henry's folders and repeated it to an appreciative public.

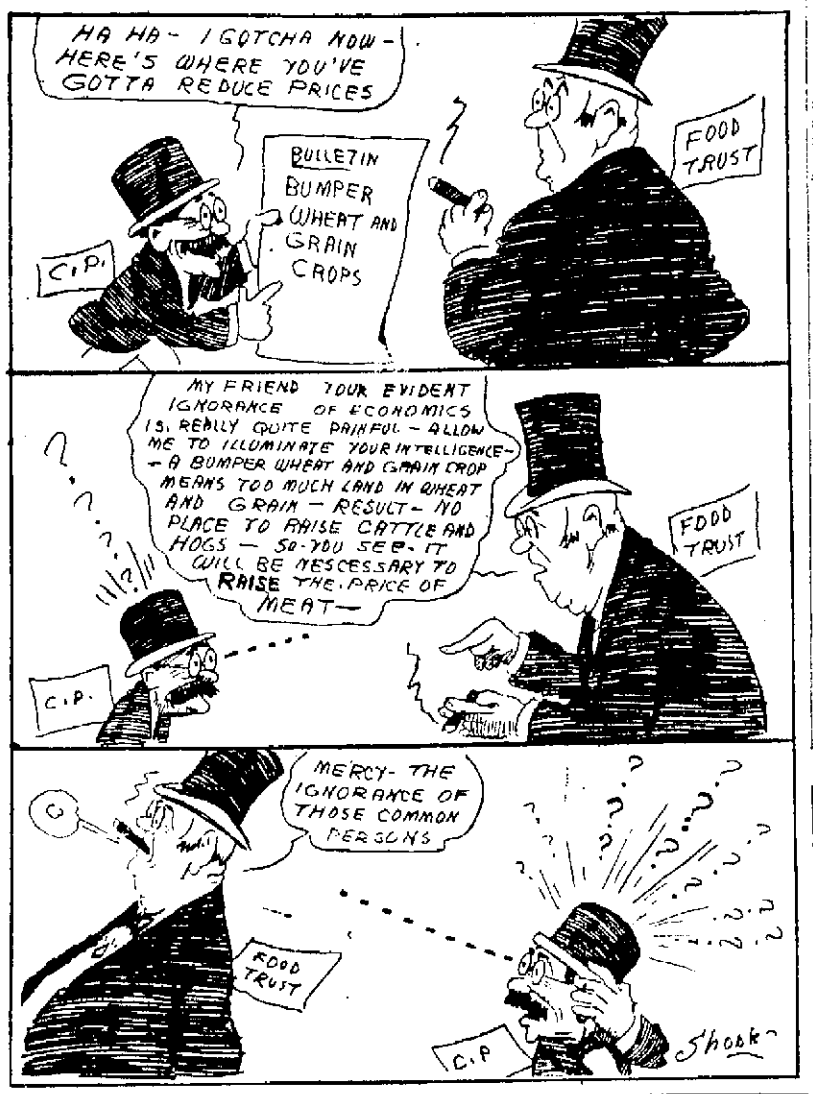

Mrs. Pankhurst has some satisfaction in her militant fight in that she has been pinched more than any other woman in the kingdom and that may be saying a whole lot in the general use of the term without specifying the location.

We assure Greece that if those two battleships do not make the Turkish throne rattle like a laundry wagon we have a few more that will do it at the same price.

The old-time public hanging should be restored especially for the anarchist. These quiet electrocutions have no terrors for his kind or warning to others.

We had never expected to live long enough to see the auto death toll eclipse that of the fire-cracker, but we are here completely dumbfounded by the facts and are ready to believe all we hear and double what we see, which surely is the essence of submissiveness.

THE U NDERSTANDING OF ECO NOMICS.

INEXCUSABLE FORGETFULNESS.

The fact that Dr. Wiley forgot or neglected on purpose to give any praise to the merits of old fashioned batty-cakes when properly accompanied with brown sugar syrup and a chunk of golden home-made butter, the size of your foot as we used to say, we cannot gain our unanimous consent that his lecture was the all-around success that we had hoped it to be. We cannot figure out to our satisfaction how a man could talk so long and so well upon the life-supporting elements of pure food without mentioning this layout that has been the sustenance in youth of every man, great and small, learned and unlearned, distinguished and forgotten since the birth of the nation.

The public should like to have an unbiased opinion of things in general from that great apostle of peace, Andy Carnegie. Does he think this unrest and disposition to row and fight will ever come to an end in this life, that peace like a river will ever us roll and we will begin to love one another as brothers? A statement from him might add some hope to that which has almost fled.

It would be too good for most anything should the fad become popular among physicians to advise their patients to take a rest cure for their voices extending over a period of four months and depend solely upon the psychological expression as in the case of the colonel. It might be the making of things at the present time pending the promulgation and extension of the political battle lines.

Dr. Wiley thinks his babies are the only babies in the country, but he is badly handicapped for both cannot hope to be President. That is exactly where a lowly paragrapher has the advantage of him, because there is only one and from the way he orders us around and we search the lining of our pockets for that lonely dime he is surely going to be President or a statesman close to high finance.

A TRYING SITUATION.

The man who really deserves the sympathies of the people is the poor candidate who is asked to subscribe his name to both the amendments. There is room forr prayer in his behalf for he knows not where to turn. There are times in one's life when he would rather be alone, and this is one of the times.

Without making any reference to or boasting about local conditions we feel safe in saying that no one ever heard of a dictagraph being installed in a paragrapher's room by a suspicious madame of the household.

Doubtless the President has felt all along that it would be just as well to let big business do the fighting down in Mexico as it would to send our boys down there to do it for them.

The betting game down at Cincinnati must be equivalent to a plain hold-up since a real detective has complained to the police that he had been swindled out of $400.

Perhaps General Villa ordered that expensive bath tub to souse Carranza in occasionally if he didn't behave.

There is much satisfaction to the paragrapher when the vacation season comes for then the bosses all tear themselves away and leave things in his hands and he can lord around and feel big for a few weeks only to learn how small he is when they return.

If a man get credit for the mosquito bites at those little resorts the landlord would be required to double the charge for the scenery and the invigorating breeze that he calls attention to, but were not sent by him, although his fodder claims to have had some hand in the selection of the location.

That physician who ventured the opinion that old-fashioned love was much superior to the eugenic kind surely has bit on a proper diagnosis for once but his boldness may cause loss of aristocratic patronage.

The popular tune now in West Virginia is "How Dry I Am."

BRONSONS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Word has just reached the city of the almost miraculous escape of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bronson from being burned to death at Dayton, Ohio.

Mrs. Bronson, who was formerly Miss Margaret Swander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Swander, of Fourth and Market streets, was cleaning some clothes with gasoline when her actor husband entered the room and struck a match to ignite a cigar. Instantly the fumes caught fire and Mr. and Mrs. Bronson were enveloped in a mass of flames.

Their screams attracted neighbors, who hastened to their assistance and the flames were finally smothered, not, however, before Mr. and Mrs. Bronson were painfully burned about the hands, arms and face. The Bronson house caught fire, but the blaze was extinguished before much damage was done by the city fire department.

Mr. and Mrs. Bronson were both unnerved by their experience and consider their escape as miraculous, especially that of Mrs. Bronson, whose clothes were saturated with gasoline and which were almost burned off her body. Fortunately the burns were not deep and no scars will appear.

Mr. and Mrs. Bronson will leave shortly for Florida where Mr. Bronson is interested in a big vaudeville show.

BAD OPERATION AVOIDED

By Timely Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Sowers' Own Statement.

Hodgdon, Maine.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."—Mrs. Hayward Sowers, Hodgdon, Maine.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY PROPERTY IN PORTSMOUTH!

"Well selected realty has proven to be the safest of all securities."—The New York Herald.

"The man who puts his savings into real estate need have little fear of money panics or business depressions."—The New York American.

It pays to buy real estate in any growing city at any time but now is the right time to buy property and Portsmouth is the right city to buy it in. Because of the recent local factory trouble and the usual summer dullness, reasonable prices prevail, and is the time to pick up bargains. Prices will advance by fall as by that time the effect of the factory troubles will have passed; work on the C. & O. bridge will have begun; the largest crops in the country will have been harvested; Congress will have adjourned, and a general stimulation of business will take place. The Successful Man

MORE than nine times out of ten you will find that the successful man began his success by first being a prudent man. He early learned the value of saving and began putting his surplus in bank. There is character and force about the man who has money in bank. He begets confidence in himself and confidence and credit from the community. He becomes recognized as safe and dependable. Opportunities begin to come his way and having some means he is the better able to profit by them.

The first step towards success is saving. We want to help you in that step and we offer you the security and facilities of our bank. One dollar will open a savings account and we allow interest on all savings deposits and compound the interest.

Picking Up Money

Using these columns is pretty much like picking up money on the streets. Walking is small effort, you wear out a little leather, the money you pick up is clear gain, if you can't find the owner.

So it is little effort to telephone your "want" to this paper, your carrier will collect the little cost—only ½ cents a word each insertion—and the little ad is altogether likely to get for you what you want.

Contract Awarded

The Board of Elections met Saturday morning and awarded the contract for the printing of the ballots to Kah-Patterson on their bid of $5.50 per 1000. The bid of the Keystone Printing company was $6.00 per thousand. The registration days for the primaries were set as Friday and Saturday, July 24 and 25. The list of names for the ballots will be ready for the printer in a few days.

MAKE BID FOR FRANCHISE

The street railway company Saturday submitted a bid on its proposed extension of the car line down Norfolk avenue and on Walnut streets. Council will pass upon it at its next meeting. This is a mere formality, the law requiring that proposed extensions must be made known to city councils and routes advertised so that if other companies might offer better fares and better conditions franchises may be awarded to them instead.

Boxwell Graduates Hold Commencement

The Scioto County Boxwell commencement was held in the auditorium of the Portsmouth high school Saturday morning, the exercises beginning at nine o'clock. This will be the last Boxwell commencement, as the new school law prohibits that as soon as one completes the studies of the eighth grade, he or she is allowed to enter high school, no examination being necessary. The class this year was larger by far than the one of 1913, there being 69 who received their diplomas, giving them the right to enter high school at the expence of the township in which they reside. Twelve different townships and districts were represented.

New Boston came first, with 13 graduates, while Madison township was second with 11.

H. T. Beatty, of the Board of Examiners, had charge of the exercises. Alfred Stewart, a graduate of Ohio University, delivered the class address, his subject being "Efficiency." He gave a short explanation of the Boxwell-Patterson school law and the law that has taken its place.

There were only 61 of the 69 graduates present, 49 girls and 21 boys. The parents of several of the graduates called for their diplomas. A recitation from one graduate from each district, or township, took up most of the morning exercises. S. D. Eckhart, superintendent of the New Boston schools, and clerk of the Board of Examiners, delivered the diplomas and made a short talk.

Below are the names of the graduates from their respective districts and townships:

New Boston—Catharine Cameron, Mabel Hall, Margaret Brisker, Verna Artis, Orval Henson, Walter Dressler, Cecil Sayre, William Shaner, James Taylor, Thelma Moore, Garnet Elliott, Mary Virgin, James Screws.

Madison Township—Golda Alexander, Maud Shear, Emma Pfleger, Grace Giles, Alice Giles, Maud Shoemaker, Enid L. Rickey, Homer Dever, Clarence McDiel, Emma C. Bennett.

Bloom Township—Cecilia Kulmer, Marie Jackson, Marcella Crabtree,

Building In Bad Shape

Dr. W. W. Smith, city health officer, has filed a report with Mayor Frick on conditions he found in a tenement house two doors below the corner of Front and Jefferson streets and which was recently raided by the police. He describes the place as having but one entrance, that of the front, and in a most filthy condition. The mayor will order the place vacated and put in sanitary shape so that it may be tenanted by respectable persons.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise,—Is it proper for a girl who is mad at her fellow to give him his ring if he doesn't ask for it?

CURLY.

What business have you with a man's ring? You couldn't wear it unless for a bracelet. Give it back to him at once and never take it again.

Dear Dolly. What would you do with a slick shiny nose? My nose is so shiny that I can see myself in it. LUCY.

Why not use it for a mirror, then?

Dear Dolly.—Please tell me how I can clean white kid gloves? SADIE.

Recently I have heard borax recommended for cleaning white kid gloves, but personally I should stick to the dry cleaner's mixture of chloroform and naptha used with a clean white cloth.

Dear Dolly Wise.—What would be your opinion of a fellow who persists in hugging a girl the first time he was ever in her company in the presence of her friends?

CHUMS.

You can't blame the man very much, if the girl is soft enough to let him take such liberties. No man will do such a thing unless he is encouraged to do so.

Dear Dolly.—When you take a girl out for the first time what should you say after you get back home if you wish to take her again? JOE.

Why not ask her if you can't have the pleasure of calling as you had enjoyed her company.

Dear Dolly.—This question has been discussed by you several times before, but to settle an argument with a friend who did not happen to see it, I want to know if it is necessary for a man to remove his hat while riding in an elevator with a lady?

ED.

No, it is not absolutely necessary. No one would arrest a man or put him off the elevator if he didn't remove his hat. It is not any more necessary to remove his hat in an elevator than it is for him to remove it while addressing a lady on the street. Not the necessary but the unnecessary things make life worth living, Ed. Remember that courtesy doesn't cost a cent. A woman's respect and admiration for you will increase tenfold with every "unnecessary" courtesy you extend her. If I were you I would remove my hat while riding in an elevator with the ladies, if possible. Of course if you have something in your arms, you will be excused.

Dear Dolly.—Should the gentleman take the lady by the arm or should the lady take the gentleman's arm in crossing a rough road? BILL.

The man usually assists the woman by taking her arm, although it is a question of personal choice. You can readily see how much better he can aid her, by doing the guiding, Bill.

Dear Dolly.—I am 20 years old and engaged to be married. Is that too young to marry?

ENGAGED GIRL.

If you are well developed physically know how to cook and keep house, and make a husband happy, you are probably not too young to marry.

Dear Dolly.—This question may not be in your line, but I would like to know if pumice stone is good to whiten the teeth, if so, how is it to be used?

INQUISITIVE.

To use it very carefully and not in too large quantities once in a great while will make the teeth whiter. It is best applied with a soft cloth and rubbed gently, rinsing the teeth and mouth well afterwards. If I were in your place, however, I would get "prepared chalk" and use it instead of the pumice. It is an excellent whitener, and is moreover quite harmless. Any good dental powder or paste might also answer the purpose.

Dear Dolly.—There is a girl I meet on Gallia street every day and she always speaks to me and smiles, do you think she loves me? BEN.

No, I do not think that the girl loves you, Ben. She probably just wishes to show her friendship.

Dear Dolly.—Is it necessary for a young girl to give up her seat in a street car to an elderly lady? Some say it is necessary, but I don't think it is. What is your opinion?

POLITE GIRL.

It is not necessary, but it is a very kind thing to do. Elderly people sometimes find it difficult to hang to a strap on a crowded trolley.

Alice and Irene—The answer to your question appeared in Thursday night's Times and I am not going to print it again.

Miss Dolly Wise—Please give a recipe for soap made from grease.

A SUBSCRIBER.

Dissolve one box potash in three quarts of water; add four ounces of borax. Let stand three hours, then add two quarts melted grease. Stir 15 minutes. Pour into pans and cut into cakes. This recipe makes a most excellent hard white soap with little expenditure of time and money. It is very good for household purposes.

C. & O. BRIDGE DETAILS IN GOVERNMENT'S HANDS

STRUCTURE WILL BE RECORD ONE; ANXIOUS TO AWARD CONTRACT

Formal application for a permit to bridge the Ohio river at Sciotoville was filed with the Board of Engineers of Cincinnati, Friday by M. J. Caples, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company and Attorney Henry T. Bannon. This board will turn over the application, which is a voluminous document as it gives all the details of the immense bridge, to Secretary of War Lindley Garrison of Washington. Then the Board of Engineers of Washington will examine the plans and specifications of the bridge and arrange for a hearing on the application. This form of procedure must be carried out when a corporation seeks to bridge the Ohio river at any point throughout its length.

"We expect a reply on our application and a favorable one within 30 days," said Henry T. Bannon, Saturday, in discussing the legal procedure that must be carried out to bring this matter up before the Board of Engineers of Washington, who have the final say in this important matter. After all the detailed material is placed in their hands and examined thoroughly it is up to them to accept or grant the application.

"So confident are we that the action will be of a favorable nature and that we will not encounter any governmental handicaps in our efforts to bridge the Ohio that we are going ahead with our plans just the same as if we already had received favorable word about our application," continued Mr. Bannon, Saturday.

"We have complied with every minute request prescribed by Uncle Sam and feel that the request to build a bridge across the Ohio a few miles east of Portsmouth will be granted. When completed it will be the longest railroad bridge spanning the Ohio river.

Details Of The Bridge

"It will have but one pier in the river. A single span will be 750 feet in length, which will give an adequate idea of the immensity of the bridge.

Submit Plans Of Second Route

"Of course if at the last moment we decide to build the bridge directly east of Portsmouth we can do so without any hindrance on Uncle Sam's part as we have submitted detailed plans of both routes, but we have expressed a preference for the Sciotoville route. As the situation stands now there is no doubt but what the road will go up the Little Scioto. The bridge will be built of structural steel and concrete and when completed will represent an outlay of over $2,000,000.

"We are very anxious to award the contract for the construction of the bridge, but of course our hands are tied in this matter until we get permission from Uncle Sam to build the much talked of bridge.

"Construction men have been in the city all week getting prices on material, so it is very evident that active work on the bridge is not far off."

AUTOMOBILE UPSETS AND IMPERILS LIVES OF SIX

In an automobile accident that took place two miles this side of Haverhill Friday afternoon the lives of six people were endangered when the car shot off the road and completely overturned. Occupants of the car were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bierly, of 1039 Eleventh street, and two daughters, Lora, aged 6, and Dorothy, aged one year; George Salladay and Mrs. Lora Bierly, mother of Mr. Bierly. After skidding off the road the machine was thrown against a barbed wire fence and then turned turtle.

All the occupants were thrown out of the car, a five-passenger Ford, except the two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bierly, Lora and Dorothy. They were pinned under the car, but were fortunate enough to escape without a scratch. Four men lifted the car off them and pushed it back on the road, the machine not being damaged to any great extent.

Mrs. Lora Bierly was cut about the hands and arms, the result of being hurled against the wire fence. She was taken to Dr. Massie, of Haverhill, who dressed her injuries. She was the only one that was injured at all.

Mrs. Bierly was at the wheel of the machine when the accident took place. She is just learning to drive the car. When about two miles this side of Haverhill an automobile and a wagon approached the Bierly car from the East. When Mrs. Bierly started to pull over to the west side of the road she turned the car too sharply and it ran off the road and plunged down a small embankment. As soon as the car was righted Mr. Bierly took possession of it and drove it into Haverhill.

Mr. Bierly stated Saturday that the car was not damaged whatever. He and his family and mother and Mr. Salladay had visited Mr. and Mrs. Mike Mucha, near Franklin Furnace, and had started for Haverhill when the accident took place. Mr. Bierly is employed as a motorman by the street railway company here.

Who Lost A Grip?

Mystery surrounds the finding of a grip containing men's and women's wearing apparel on the porch of Mrs. Otillia Bazler's home at No. 525 Third street early Saturday morning.

Mrs. Bazler made the strange find when she went out to do some sweeping, and summoned Chief McCarty, who took the grip to police headquarters. While inexpensive, the clothes were clean and neat. A safety razor and brush which seemed to have been freshly used were also found in the grip, and the only paper it contained bore the name of Handly, of Cincinnati. By a strange coincidence Mrs. Bazler's old family dog was also found dead early Saturday morning.

Straw Vote Taken On Trust Measures

Washington, July 11.—The results of a referendum on the trust bills pending in Congress conducted by the chamber of commerce of the United States among its constituent members were announced here today at headquarters of the chamber. Some organizations declined to vote, giving as their reason that they regard such legislation unnecessary at this time.

Business organizations in 36 states casting a total vote of 559 recorded their views. The vote against attempt by statute to forbid discrimination in prices of commodities was 531 to 22. That interlocking of directors among competitive business corporations including railroads, should be prohibited regardless of the size of the corporation, of elimination of competition among the corporations is question would constitute a violation of the Sherman act, was voted 491 to 41. That there should be an attempt to regulate the shares of stock registered by persons engaged in interstate trade was voted upon, 445 to 74.

A Siding and Half Timber House.—By John Henry Newson

"Home of Character" No. 171

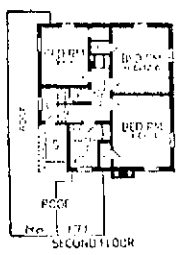

This is an adaptation of our No. 101 and shows the possibility of combining wide lap siding with plaster panels, with the English half timber effect in gables.

The large living room across the front with the mantel on the front wall is a novel treatment, which at the same time affords abundance of window space to the front on each side of the fireplace. The dining room, which faces to the rear, has two low windows on the rear and two high windows on the side wall, and is served from the kitchen through a convenient pantry. The kitchen is of sufficient size to provide everything in the way of kitchen necessities and ample cupboard space. The refrigerator is so placed that it can be iced from the rear porch without entering the house. The second floor is divided into three good sized rooms, with the bathroom in the front, and each room has an ample closet, while the linen closet opens from the bathroom. There is a storing space provided off of the stair landing underneath the roof, in addition to a small attic.

Ceiling heights—first story 9 feet, second 8 feet 6 inches. Estimated cost $3,500. Can be built for from $3000 to $4,000, depending on local conditions and kind and quality of materials used. Size 29x27 feet.

If you are thinking of building let The Times Homes of Character Department help you through advice from John Henry Newson. Address your inquiries to him "Homes of Character" Dept., The Times. Give the number of houses concerning which you make inquiry.

SOUTH WEBSTER BRICK PLANT IS BURNED DOWN

With a mighty sweep of its destructive hand the fire fiend Friday night completely wiped out the plant of the South Webster Brick company, causing a heavy loss and throwing 175 men out of employment. The blaze consumed the principal industry of South Webster and caught the plant only half insured. An engine room, a machine room, a drying and sand plant the principal industry—were converted into ashes.

It was after ten o'clock Friday night Night Engineer Wilson discovered the fire in the building containing the drying tunnels. Rushing to the engine room, a possible two feet away, he sounded the alarm by tieing down the whistle. But by the time the alarm was sounded, the entire plant was a mass of flames. Inadequate fire facilities and the tongues of flame to one structure to another the entire plant was soon and the villagers were compelled to stand aside and watch it reduced to ashes.

Four men on duty at the plant at the time escaped injury and fortunately no one was hurt in the efforts to stem the advance of the flames. A number of B. & O. box cars on a siding were switched out of the fire zone in the nick of time.

The fire is attributed to overheat in the drying tunnels.

W. L. Hitchcock, a heavy stockholder in the firm, after visiting the ruins Saturday morning, stated to The Times that it would be impossible to estimate the loss as the plant was being remodeled and was just nearing completion. AA meeting of the directors has been called for Monday when it will be decided whether to rebuild the plant or not. W. J. Fullerton of Columbus, is president of the firm operating the plant, while Messrs. Hitchcock and H. M. Strong are heavy stockholders.

POLICE AFTER TAYLOR

The police have been vainly searching for E. L. Taylor, a solicitor, since early Friday evening, to answer to a complaint of Harris Henderson a shoeworker, that he defrauded him of $2. Taylor is accused of having written some bogus insurance for Henderson, whom he gave what was supposed to be a receipt for the amount, but which, upon close examination, he alleged, proved to be so worded and lettered that it was nothing more than an application for insurance, with the two dollar marks carried into the month column so as to make it read 200 months of insurance.

Henderson has been told to appear in court Monday morning to prosecute Taylor, in the event of his arrest.

The latest victim was a negro boy. The city authorities, however, were confident that they had the city under control and that no further cases would be reported.

RIVER-CITY BAND SOON WILL BE 25 YEARS OLD

Back in 1889 a handful of musicians with antediluvian horns got together and formed a band. In those halycon days everything ran to the River City so when some one suggested to call the musical organization the River City band the name was readily accepted on account of its appropriateness.

Through all these years the band has stuck together and to day is recognized as one of the best musical organizations in the Buckeye State. The band will be twenty-five years old on September 10, and it is likely that the members will formally celebrate the event. When it is considered that the life of the average band is but three years according to Leader George Kah, the record established by the River City band is all the more remarkable. There are but five original members of the band left, George and John Kah, Jimmy Gilbert, Arthur Bode and Charley Brunner.

"We expect to hold some sort of a celebration in honor of the band rounding out a full quarter of a century, but of course we have not shaped up any definite plans at this particular time. We have as good a band today as we had many years ago, which is also remarkable as usually shifts made in small town bands come so frequently that the band is soon a mixed affair and eventually the hand of apathy touches it and it withers up and dies. During my leadership I have seen no less than a dozen local bands spring up and die. It is no small task to keep a band intact for 25 years so we really have something to feel proud of," said Geo. Kah, Thursday evening. He always waxes enthusiastic when on the subject of the River City band.

And it is only fair to Mr. Kah to say that the unqualified success of the band, which has earned fame and glory in many climes and states is due to the indefatigable and systematic methods so faithfully pursued by Mr. Kah in conducting the artistic as well as the business side of the band. Hats are off to the River City band. In September it will complete its twelfth season in Millbrook park.

"MOTHER-BEATER" GIVEN A STIFF FINE BY MAYOR

Mayor Adam Frick for the first time since occupying the police court bench, was called upon Saturday to deal with a case of mother-beating and the surprising thing of it all was that the defendant showed no remorse and rather tried to justify his act.

Howard McCoy, aged 21, a roof painter of Market street, was the accused. The mother, Mrs. Mary McCoy, a middle-aged woman, hard of hearing, presented a badly discolored eye and nose as marks of the assault.

The mayor prepared to dispose of the case without questioning the young man, hardly believeing he had any excuse to offer but to his surprise McCoy desired to make a statement. He said his mother had beaten him across the shoulder with the lead butt-end of an umbrella some months ago and he had served notice on her at that time that he would not take a beating from her again. On Friday he went home for dinner and said his mother instead ran him out with a broom stick. He held the screen door to prevent her from following him outside and she poked the end of the broom through the screen, striking him in the side. It was then he struck her. He claimed she had similarly treated one of his brothers.

Asked if his conscience disturbed him after the assault McCoy without any show of feeling, declared it had not. He was reminded that if he felt he was justified in his act it was strange he had disappeared immediately after, police finding him on the opposite end of the Scioto river bridge. Mrs. McCane, a neighbor, while disapproving McCoy's assault, testified that the mother was in a habit of mistreating the young man, often refusing to supply him with meals and refusing to do any washing for him. She out of pity for him secured her husband's consent to wash several shirts for him.

The mayor held that McCoy had no right whatever to strike his mother and that it was unfortunate that the law did not provide a more severe penalty for such as him. He fined the young man $50.

Mrs. Que Adams was fined $5 for assaulting Mrs. Virginia Fitzgerald, the trouble arising over their respective children but the fine was suspended pending good behavior.

When Mrs. Fitzgerald went to the other's home and asked her to correct her child, Mrs. Adams is said to have attacked her, pulling her by the hair and throwing her comb to the sidewalk. Mrs. Fitzgerald fought back with weeds, according to the testimony of neighbors. The Adams woman's husband described the neighborhood as one in which women do not comb their hair and where people are constantly warring and suggested the need of a watchman. The mayor therefore directed the chief to give that particular section some special attention.

The mayor encountered no little difficulty enlightening himself on a complaint of J. C. Maynard, a deaf mute of No. 1118 Chillicothe street. All evidence against those complained of was submitted in writing and having every advantage the others denied all.

They were Joseph Thompson and Willis Hutch, while the real cause of the disturbance, Walter Lewis, also a mute, and Clarence Simpson, failed to show up. It seems Mr. Maynard was entertaining his fellow mutes of Portsmouth complimentary to some young women guests from Charleston, W. Va., a few evenings ago when the above young men accompanied Lewis to the house. Lewis was drinking and stepping into the circle of the assembled guests assumed the role of ringmaster, spilling some whiskey from a bottle while someone circulated some indecent notes through the crowd. Another boldly entered an adjoining room in search of other women, they evidently mistaking the place as a disorderly house. Lewis was ejected from the house and his companions disappeared. Hutch tried hard to convince the mayor of his innocence but made little progress and he and Thompson were fined $5 each which was suspended until a further investigation can be made. The fine of Simpson was also held in abeyance until such time.

Douglass Miller pleaded guilty of stealing a bicycle of Roy Sissel valued at $10 and was fined $50. He was also suspected of stealing a dinner from a workingman at the Lincoln school building.

Simps Yates, of Paintsville, Ky., who while returning home from Blanchester, O., got jagged and tried to tell the conductor of an N. & W. train how to regulate the speed to suit him, drew a $10 fine in default of which he was assigned to the prison work gang.

Joe Turner, a West Virginia negro, who was drunk and noisy at Joe Dill's saloon, also drew a place on the work gang. Ben Shoemaker, who was found asleep on a Sixth street porch, and Joe Spangler and Pearl Boydston, plain drunks, got the minimum of $5 each.

The Movies

The Exhibit

Three reels of excellent pictures are to be seen at the Exhibit tonight. "The Green God," a thrilling drama in three parts, is to be shown, portraying a tale of jealousy and its attending suffering and complications. It is a fascinating picture from start to finish and one not to be missed.

And while the picture is being thrown on the screen the management is confident that you will find it one of the most striking pictures ever seen. The costly mirror screen on which all pictures are shown is one of the latest inventions in the moving picture world and shows the pictures to their best advantage.

You can see the pictures without straining your eyes and without being forced to draw on your imagination for portions of the pictures that often are not shown on other screens. And while the management offers the best program in the city it also invites you to sit in a comfortable house. The interior is tastily decorated. There are plenty of seats. Breezes from a half dozen electric fans give you fresh and cool air every minute. The house is cool and comfortable and the program entertaining and clean. Do not hesitate to bring your friends, your relatives, your chum or your sweetheart with you.

"Adventures of Kathlyn"

"The Spellbound Multitude" is the title of part No. 9 of the "Adventures of Kathlyn" at the Columbia this evening. You remember in the last number of this great picture how Kathlyn attempted to rescue her sister Winnie from the Cruel Crown. Tonight you will see Kathlyn disguised as an animal trainer winning the plaudits of the assembled multitude of people in the arena. She invites her sister from the Royal Box down to the arena, and they escape beyond the walls by means of a secret passage, only to encounter more complications on the outside. By all means don't miss this number of Kathlyn's adventures this evening.

"The Ladies' War," a Vitagraph comedy, with "Cissy Fitzgerald" is a scream from start to finish. The colored cook of one of the ladies leaves and goes to work for another lady. Both ladies are members of the Culture Club. The cook throws a few bombs of gossip, concerning her first mistress, into her second employer's camp and starts war. Be sure and see the comedy which comes out of this "Ladies' War" at the Columbia tonight.

The Columbia has booked a good program for each day of next week, including special pictures on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. "Judith of Bethlulia" which will be offered on Thursday, is recognized as one of the best pictures ever made by the General Film company. It is in four reels and is most elegantly staged and costumed. Commencing next Saturday night Manager Tynes has arranged the greatest set of comedy pictures on the entire film market. They are known as the "Snakeville Comedies" and the three principal characters are "Sophie Clutts," "Slippery Slim" and "Mustang Pete." Remember starting next Saturday you can see one of these comedies each week.

"Cardinal Richelieu's Ward" At Lyric Monday

This magnificent four reel production can hardly be overrated. It is one of the Thanhouser big productions, which means that no expense has been spared and no detail overlooked that goes to make a superb picture. The acting throughout this picture is without flaw, the leading man and woman are among the best actors that ever saw a camera and their work in "Cardinal Richelieu's Ward" has placed them among the stellar lights of the world. The story which is well known to all, is one of dramatic intensity, full of stirring action from start to finish. The costumes and settings are elaborate, the whole production will be a treat that you will remember a long time. The admission will be ten cents, afternoon and evening.

"[illegible] Right of Way," a Vitagraph special feature, will be the big attraction for Tuesday, a story that simply can not be improved upon. [illegible] will hold you spellbound. The stars of this production include Leo Delaney, Van Dyke Brooke, Norma Talmadge, Harry Northrup, and a cast of ten other Vitagraphers. The admission will be 10 cents afternoon and evening.

THEATRICAL

At The Casino

Mr. Frank Jones, who plays the heavies at the Casino, is not only a dramatic actor of ability, but a singer as well and has the unique distinction of being about the only one in America that has played in the musical comedies, ending with "Girl Take," for instance, the English productions, "The Runaway Girl," "Gaiety Girl," "Circus Girl," "School Girl," "Shop Girl," and "Country Girl," and now "The American Girl," "The Girl from Kays," "The Girl in the Taxi," "The Girl Question," and "The Girl from Rector's," and yet being so closely identified by so many girls, he could not find one who came up to his ideal. There is an old adage, "When the wolf knocks at the door, love flys out of the window." That, perhaps, may have something to do with his reluctance to become a benedict, for commencing next week, July 13th, "The Wolf," one of Eugene Walker's famous plays, will knock at the door of the Casino and in this case the old adage is wrong, for the Wolf turns out to be a welcome visitor, both in the play, also to the theatregoers of Portsmouth, on account of it being its initial performance in this city by its own Stock company. The scenery is being painted and built from actual photographs taken by Hall of New York, the great theatrical photographer of the original New York production.

FAMILIAR NAMES FOUND ON OLD BALLOT

H. Clay Murfin has an election ticket that is fifty years old and is of the kind that was voted by his father, James Murfin, and by his uncle, Orrin Gould. H. Clay was not then in the voting class.

The ticket is the Union, State and County ticket for 1864. The candidates were: Governor, John Brough, and Charles Anderson lieutenant governor. Hocking H. Hunter, of Fairfield county, was the candidate for supreme judge. Many members of the Scioto county bar today will pleasantly recall Mr. Hunter. James H. Goodman of Marion county, was running for auditor of state. Mr. Goodman has frequently been in Portsmouth. John M. Barrere, of Highland, was candidate for member of the board of public works, and was a member of the well known Barrere family which has stood high in Ohio politics with the organization of the state.

On the county ticket Elijah Glover was running for representative. He was the father of Mrs. I. L. Watkins of Los Angeles, and is still remembered by many citizens. S. B. Drouillard was the candidate for clerk of the courts. He made a splendid official and served many terms. His widow, Mrs. Emma Drouillard still lives at the old homestead, southwest corner of Second and Gay streets.

John L. Ward was running for treasurer. Mr. Ward was a very live wire, politically, and otherwise, and some of the family are still among our most honored citizens. J. Y. Harper was running for prosecuting attorney. He afterwards served several terms as common pleas judge. He was the father of Will and Sam Harper of this city, and of Editor Joe Harper of Washington C. H.

F. C. Searl, long one of our chief attorneys, was the candidate for probate judge. He was elected and served several terms. J. T. Jackson stood for commissioner. He was probably one of the West Side Jacksons. For infirmary director the candidate was David D. Jones, father of David L. and John D. Jones. Mr. Jones was of the old Gaylord rolling mill stock, and was long one of our most esteemed citizens.

W. W. Johnson of Ironton, was candidate for common pleas judge, Seventh Judicial District. Judge Johnson was afterwards on the supreme bench and a man of nation-wide prominence. John T. Wilson of Adams county, was candidate for state senator, the senatorial district being the same as it is now. Mr. Wilson was afterwards a congressman and served acceptably. He was a wealthy and highly respected citizen.

None of the above candidates are now living with the possible exception of Mr. Goodman and Mr. Jackson.

The ticket is well preserved and he has it pasted on a strip of white muslin.

Margaret Mason's New York Letter

(By MARGARET MASON)

(Written for the United Press)

Here's a traveling kit for Kitty
That will keep her heart and pretty
On her week ends from the city.

New York, July 11.—When the fair city maid swoops down upon rural relations and country cousins it is necessary if she would bag a few hearts that her week end bag be a bag of tricks. To get as much as possible in as small a space as possible being the main problem, the modern maid would seem to have a cinch, judging by the things she doesn't wear as well as by those she does. As the more style she puts on the more clothes she takes off, a string of clouded amber beads and a few ruffles of net would seem to be enough to turn the head of most any country gentleman from Saturday to Monday.

First of all she travels in a suit either of light weight serge ratine, ratine or one of the other smart cotton fabrics with a plain blouse of handkerchief linen either in white or one of the new gay colors. If she believes implicitly in signs a white suit a la Phoebe Snow is most effective.

A smart top coat or cape of dark tone carried over the arm can be pressed into service with equal success for motoring or evening wear. Armed also with one of the convenient little party cases or victories, toilette requisites are ready to hand. A flower trimmed hat that will go well with a fluffy frock and yet not clash with the traveling suit tops off this tactful traveller and she is on her way.

Arrived at her destination these are the presto changes that she takes out of her magic pig skin bag to bewitch the country-side.

A dainty little morning frock of flowered crepe or handkerchief linen; a sports skirt of white ratine for golf or tennis and a stitched crash sport hat that can also be used nicely for motoring with the aid of a veil. An extra white organdie blouse, an embroidered net dress of sheerest audacity and transparency and yet not so much so that the rustic bumpkins can see through its double purpose of serving for afternoon garden parties and the dansants and the evening dance without the ten.

One especially desirable model has a loose kimona blouse of shadowy lace over embroidered net which is cut away above the waist line. There is an inner lining of color chiffon which gives a little stability to the short sleeves and blouse above the bust where the net is eliminated in favor of the shadowy lace alone. The neck is cut low and V shaped in front with a high medici collar of the lace behind finished with a fold of yellow taffeta at the base. The skirt is a tier of three flounces first yellow taffeta which falls below the hips and is shirred on to the blouse with a heading, then a flounce of the shadow lace to the calf over a flounce of the embroidered net which falls to the floor. A sash of the yellow taffeta is caught with a flower of the same silk in the middle of the front waist line and falls on either side of the hips to fasten in a butterfly bow at the lower edge [illegible] taffeta [illegible]

A plain little, cool little flesh colored [illegible] next to [illegible] A pair of satin or bronze slippers, two under [illegible] one flesh color crepe de chine [illegible] white crepe de chine [illegible] petticoat, two Italian silk [illegible] combinations, a crepe de chine [illegible] and one half dozen white hankies and six with colored and striped borders and last, least and almost infinitesimal enough to be overlooked in the bag but never to be overlooked (nay rather to be looked over many times) on the living model is a scanty silk bathing suit.

This for a dip in the surf where it is guaranteed to make a serf for life of any but a blind man.

And thus is Kitty's kit complete
She's clothes for house and ball and street,
For bath and sport, sure at her feet,
Will fall each country swain she'll meet.

ODDS AND ENDS

TODAY'S VERSE

Success

At the foot of the Hill of Endeavor,
O, Young One, look upward and see
The shine of the prize that dazzles your eyes
With the gleam of the glory to be.

Far up in the clouds, like a beacon,
Its lustre illumines the world,
And you start on your way at the dawn of the day
With the flag of your purpose unfurled.

Youth, Hope and Ambition attend you
And the line of your march is bestrewn
With the roses that bring you the fragrance of Spring,
While the fullness of earth seems your own.

Up the steeps of the Hill of Endeavor
You battle and toil and keep on
For the glittering prize that dazzles your eyes
At eve as it did at the dawn.

Its brilliance is always before you
To lighten the arduous way
That leads to success through struggle and stress
And crowns you with laurel and bay.

At the top of the Hill of Endeavor,
O, Old One, look downward and call
To the brave and the true, who are following you,
Godspeed and good cheer to them all.

Up-to-the-Minute

The modern girl,
She wear a curl
Above her ear
And she looks queer.
Her skirts are tight,
She cannot walk;
Her curls so tight
She cannot talk.
She wears
A hat that's flat,
A pancake thing,
By jing.
Her coat is like
That of the male
And has a funny
Little tail,
And here's another
Funny stunt,
She wears a bustle
On the front.
What will the modistes,
By pretext,
Do to the poor
Young mortal
Next?

Her Fatal Beauty

He met her in the meadow
As the sun was sinking low;
They strolled along together,
In the twilight's afterglow.
She waited patiently.
While he lowered all the bars,
Her soft eyes bent upon him,
As radiant as the stars.
But she did not smile or thank him,
Because she knew not how,
For he was but a farmer lad,
And she was a Jersey cow.

HAD HUSBAND ARRESTED FOR ABUSE

Albert Lauter, a tinner, was arrested by Officer Grant Cooper, on a complaint of his wife Saturday afternoon.

Lauter is said to have gone to his home in the B. & O. S.-W. car between Ninth and Tenth streets, and abused his wife. He secured his release soon after by posting a $10 forfeit. Lauter says he is not entirely to blame for his marital troubles, declaring his wife has refused to cook for him since last winter, causing him to go to the home of his parents for meals, and also accuses her of being unduly friendly with certain men. She recently sued him for alimony.

LABOR DAY CELEBRATION WILL BE THE BIGGEST EVER HELD IN THE CITY

Detailed arrangements for the Labor Day celebration were considered at a joint meeting of committees of the Central Labor council and Building Trades council Friday evening.

It was reported that every labor craft in the city had accepted the invitation to take part in the monster parade which will be held Labor Day morning at nine o'clock and it is expected that 5,000 men will be in line. A half dozen local and out-of town bands will participate. Most of the crafts will have floats in the parade which will be one of the biggest affairs of the kind ever witnessed in Portsmouth.

Railways will be asked to run special excursions from all cities and towns within a radius of 100 miles.

The various prizes to be awarded will be exhibited in some store on Chillicothe street two weeks prior to the holiday. A big bazaar at which prizes will be given with each purchase will form one of the interesting features of the celebration.

A wrestling match for the light weight championship of the world will be one of the strong cards of the day with Charles Kiegler, of Portsmouth and Jack Clayton of Cincinnati as the contestants. It will be held in the ball park at Millbrook and in the event of rain will be staged in the Casino.

Local talent will give a vaudeville performance at the Casino in the evening and Samuel Davis, mayor of New Boston, has donated the free use of his new motion picture house for the entire day. Besides there will be balloon ascensions and an effort will be made to secure Glenn Curtis to give an exhibition with a hydroaeroplane.

FRATERNITY ORGANIZE

Portsmouth students of the International Correspondence Schools, at a meeting held in the Masonic Temple Friday evening, effected an organization by electing the following officers: Lane J. Dinsmore, president; C. F. Hanscom, vice-president; G. C. Rideout, secretary; and G. L. Cole, treasurer.

The executive committee is composed of the following members of the new fraternity: G. Frederick and C. Boren, three years; B. D. Reisner and D. W. Guilkey, two years; H. Preston and W. Ward, one year.

Meetings will be held Monday night of each week. The fraternity starts off most auspiciously, as it has a splendid membership.

MAYOR HAS PLAN TO FILL "POINT"

Mayor Frick has made the following suggestions concerning the re-building of "The Point," he believing the plan will bring the desired result with the least expense:

To Council: Honored Gentlemen:

Pursuant to the necessity of taking care of a condition in that section of the city known as the Point, where, during the flood of 1913, a large portion of the intersection of Second and Scioto streets was washed away, I offer the following suggestion, to-wit:

That a small appropriation, say one hundred dollars, be made for the use of the Service Department to construct a temporary roadway, sufficient in strength to carry a team and loaded wagon, over the opening from the foot of Second street to intersect Scioto street.

After this structure, bridge or roadway, is ready for use, the Service department should direct that every property such as will add to the filling of this opening be carried to this point, and from the structure dumped, or shoveled, into this opening. If all the garbage west of Chillicothe street, as well as every refuse from other sources, such as wreckage from buildings and earth from cellars and other excavations, street cleanings and waste from factories and mercantile establishments be required to be deposited into this opening it will be but the lapse of two years that this street may again be paved and the entire improvement, as well as the flood wall be restored.

It is my opinion that the material of such nature as is herein mentioned will be such as to bind the entire filling in such manner as to make this embankment of such solidity that it will withstand the action of the water, especially so after the bridge, which is now in process of construction, is completed.

Should this suggestion meet with approval, and the fill be made, it will serve to restore this street to its original contour and permit a rebuilding of the property owned by private parties at the least possible cost.

The refuse matter now being thrown over the flood wall by the brewery and other factory interests in the western part of the city, as well as by all others, may be made to serve a useful purpose instead of being thrown where it now is to make an unsightly place for all passersby to observe and judge the conditions of our city. This throwing of such refuse matter over the flood wall shall be restricted, even though this material be not used for the purpose herein mentioned.

Respectfully submitted,
MAYOR.

SURPRISED AT CITY'S GROWTH

An absence of 17 years from the city gave Harry N. Vigus of Zanesville, Ohio, the surprise of his life, when he visited this prosperous city at the junction of the Scioto and Ohio rivers. Portsmouth's tremendous growth since his departure seventeen years ago was a revelation to him and he could not refrain from commenting on its progressiveness. Mr. Vigus and son Ronald are visiting his sister, Mrs. J. E. Meleher, 1530 Tenth street. He is connected with the Fleischmann Yeast company and has prospered since leaving here.

BAPTIST MEETING TO BE HELD HERE

Lands Fine Position

Harry Collis, one of the graduates of this year's class of the Portsmouth High school, has landed a fine position with the D. T. I. railway at Jackson, O. Harry graduated from the business course in the local high school and this has fitted him for the position he is now holding. He is working in the place of the different clerks in the superintendent of motive power's office during their vacations. Harry has passed the Times on the Chillicothe pike for a number of years and has many friends here who are glad to hear of his entrance into the business world.

Wheeling Adopts L. E. Smith Plan For Water Works

Telegraphic reports sent out from Wheeling Saturday relative to a special election held there to determine what water works system would be adopted by the taxpayers, told of a sweeping victory scored at the polls by a former Portsmouth man, L. E. Smith, whose natural, slow sand system of water clarification and purification was endorsed by a handsome majority.

The election climaxed a warm campaign, which was quite unique in many respects as the selection of a new water system is usually left to the city officials instead of making it an issue at the polls. Before returning to his home in Charleston, L. E. Smith, who runs the Kanawha hotel there, expressed his gratification over the adoption of his system.

Concerning the special election the follow telegraphic report was sent out about it, which is of interest here as Mr. Smith formerly conducted the Washington hotel here and has many friends in Portsmouth:

"A most wonderful and sweeping victory of the people of this city and Lloyd E. Smith of Charleston, was that gained at the polls yesterday, at the municipal filtration preferential election when the Smith natural slow sand system of water clarification and purification was endorsed by a majority of 2,196 votes over the mechanical-chemical and wells systems.

"A total vote of 3,256 was polled in the eight wards of the city, which is approximately one-third of the entire vote. The totals of ballots cast for the three systems show that for every vote registered in favor of the mechanical and wells systems combined, five votes were accorded the Smith system. In comparison with the mechanical-chemic plant, which was endorsed by the Ogden trust papers and the board of control, the Smith plant received a fraction over eight votes for every one cast for the former."

VISITING LOCAL RELATIVES AFTER 13 YEARS' ABSENCE

After an absence of thirteen years, H. A. Brown, of Dallas, Tex., is visiting his father, M. W. Brown of 1401 McConnell avenue. Since locating in the South many changes have been consummated in Portsmouth and it was an agreeable surprise that awaited Mr. Brown on his return to the city. He expects to spend his vacation here renewing old acquaintances and viewing the steady progress of this lustling city.

BEN HURS INSTALL

The public installation of Portsmouth court No. 109, Tribe of Ben Hur, was a grand success. After a short business session the doors were opened to admit the friends of the order. Every seat in the large hall was filled at 8:15 when the installing officers entered the hall and were introduced by the chief of the court, Charles Spratt. The ceremony ably conducted by Supreme Officer Charles J. Miller and his aides, Jos. Diener, John E. Watts, Paul Newland, Paul Revare, Miss Angie Duncan and Miss Clara McLaughlin, left a lasting impression with all present.

The following officers were installed: Chief, Charles Spratt; Past Chief, Garland Lewis; Judge, John Egbert; Teacher, Mrs. Cora Davis; Guide and Mother Hur, Jacintha Womack; Captain, Ray Thompson; K. of R. G., Mrs. John Watts; K. of O. G., Charles Parker; Ben Hur, Basil Hardgrove; Thirzah, Hattie M. Brown; Master of Ceremonies, Charles Bowser; Arrius, Thomas McLaughlin, and R. J., Jos. Dement.

Following the installation Chief-elect Spratt addressed the audience. Little Miss Viola McLaughlin then rendered a song, little Miss Thelma Crain accompanist. Next on the program was a splendid recitation by Katherine Micklethwait, after which the Junior Drill team (16 girls), put on a drill. Address by Charles J. Miller, D. S. C., and clarionet and piano duet by William Crain and Miss Clara McLaughlin concluded the program. After serving punch, ice cream and cake, a social time ended the meeting. Eight candidates were elected to membership. A class of 30 will be initiated on Friday evening, July 24.

Warning To Autos

Mayor Adam Frick has directed Chief McCarty to have his patrolmen keep auto drivers from driving to a point closer than four feet when passengers are entering or leaving street cars. The mayor says the free ingress or egress of such passengers should not be interfered with.

No Sign Of Trouble

Police received a hurry call to the Morrow flats on Jefferson street late Friday afternoon but could find no sign of any trouble as reported.

Roy Is Pictured

Officer Roy Moore has just been presented by a friend with a neatly illustrated history of the U. S. Marine Corps, he himself being conspicuous among several of the group pictures. Roy was a member of the legation guard at Peking, China, a few years ago, he spending 32 months in the walled city. Roy sometimes feels his present illness is a result of his long stay there for to quote him, "It takes two years to get used to the smell there and two years to forget it."

BABES TOOK THE EX-CHAMPS INTO CAMP EASILY

Crum Was Hit Hard, Nesser The Slugger, Teams Play Today

Chillicothe, O., July 11.—No dubious clouds of doubt hung over the ball yard Friday. No sir! The way those beloved Champs of ours massacred the Cobblers of Portsmouth was enough to shatter even the wildest dreams of the most violent fan in the Scioto valley. Their hides were filled with pent-up audacity and they went for the confident and swaggering ex-Champs tooth and nail, and then some. It may be hard to understand and believe, but nevertheless the final score reached 8 to 2 dimensions. Gee whiz!

Call it what you may, swatting the apple or bursting the horse-hide, there is nothing too expressive. For three days they saved up their luscious hits and unloaded them all Friday afternoon. Eleven hits were garnered off the mighty Crum, good for 13 bases.

At the very beginning of the game the aspect was entirely in keeping with the threatening weather. All the harder fought the noble Champs, however, and as matters evened up, the sun put forth his smiling countenance to view the scene of carnage below, undoubtedly summoned by the voluminous clash of battle. The wind storm before game time, however, kept away a great many fans who would have more than likely constituted one of the largest week-day crowds of the season.

McWhorter, late of Ironton, exploded the traditions and he did it so easily that the fans wondered how the Champs ever managed to drop six games to them during the first half. After the first inning, he treated them as a fond and anxious mother might treat a young son, ignorant of the ways of the world. When he thought a hit would not injure or excite them too much he gave them a hit; but that was the end. They had to wait until he thought another might not impair their digestive organs. So they were never dangerous.

Nesser emerged from his idle and expensive slump with a single and two doubles. One of the doubles he uncorked with the bases clogged, in the sixth inning, and three fleeing Champs romped over the rhomboid.

The five other runs they pulled down in the four preceding innings. In the second, after Portsmouth had taken the lead with one run, Nesser began the fireworks with a single. He was sent on by a single by Eisel and a sacrifice by Houtz, and scored on a long fly off Talbot's bat.

In the next frame McWhorter singled, proceeded to the keystone sack when Corbin laid down a beautiful bunt and finished after Johnny Shovelin had singled and Nesser doubled. Two more were tolled in the fourth on singles by Corbin and Eisel, an error by Hodge and a sacrifice by Houtz. The run of the fifth inning was dragged in by Shovelin on a sacrifice fly, after he had singled and stolen second.

As previously stated, the Cobblers started out with vim exceeding. Bazan, Conwell and Hickey singled and Edwards doubled. All this was held to one run, however, by stellar fielding on the part of the men who were in olden times called Babes and Infants. Their second run, sparred in the sixth, would not have seen the light of day but for the foozle on the part of Corbin. Dillhoefer singled and finished after Corbin had dropped Hodge's long fly to right.

Let Managers Run Own Team

Have you been searching around for a sane theory as to why Ironton surrendered her franchise in the Ohio State league? Well, just pipe this one from the Chillicothe News-Advertiser:

"The rumored release of Parmalee in favor of Goodman is causing all kinds of wild threats from the fans. Leaving out of consideration the relative merits of the two as ball players, the fact remains that Parmalee has been here all season and has endeared himself to the hearts of the fans by his clean manner, his good humored conduct while on the field, and his friendly and hard-working attitude toward the team. To release him would lose a lot of patronage to the management, and rightly so.

"Then why should a winning combination be broken up, just to add a little hitting strength to the team. Ot [illegible] helped win the flag for the first half of the season, why should the team now adjust itself to a new man. That is one of the unwritten laws of baseball, never to break a winning combination, and there is a lot of truth in the bald statement."

That is one reason why so many minor league clubs fail to finish the season—some newspapers want to tell the management how a club should be run and what players should be let out and retained. Manager Newsham knows how to run a club. This man he demonstrated when he won the pennant last year and came back and won the pennant of the first half this season. Still, the News-Advertiser is panning him for letting Parmalee go and the signing of Goodman to fill his place. When certain newspapers let the minor league managers make shifts in their teams to the best interest of their clubs, then minor league baseball will be elevated to a more stable plane.

GUNBOAT SMITH IS THE FAVORITE

London, Eng., July 11.—"Gunboat" Smith is the favorite for his contest of July 16th with Georges Carpentier, the dashing, debonair French boy, who started life in a mine and is now one of the dandiest of dandy young Parisians.

But Frenchmen will not hear of Carpentier's defeat. They realize that the American is a great fighter, but they have unbounded faith in the ring craft and the speed of Georges.

If the fight goes five rounds Carpentier may have lost his chance. He has [illegible] his training in France and will not come to London until the day before the contest, which may be a risky business if the weather in the channel is unsettled.

Meanwhile "Gunboat" has roped up a camp at Harrow on the Hill, one of the delightful spots on the Northern Heights overlooking London, where [illegible] one of England's most famous colleges.

Johnny Dell Is Starting Off Fine

The State Journal says:

"John Dell [illegible] of a wallop yesterday. His first hit was off a ball that bounded over Reef and the second was a hot one toward right, on which Reef made a one-hand stab, the young Senator beating Allison to the base. Batting against Rockette in the eighth, Dell laid into a ball after the count was three two and got a drive by Titus in left-center for two bases. By not getting him around, the following Senators left the team in a plight that became a disaster when the Blues scored in the ninth."

DELEGATES ARRIVING FOR I. O. O. F. ENCAMPMENT

Tents to accommodate delegates from all over the state to the seventy-fifth annual meeting of the Grand Encampment and twentieth annual meeting of Department Council Patriarchs Militant of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, have been pitched in picturesque York Park along the banks of the Ohio river. Delegates from all over the state commenced to arrive Saturday and by Monday between 300 and 400 Odd Fellows will make Portsmouth their home for three days.

Camping grounds have been established in York Park with sixty tents. Odd Fellows, desirous of spending their days beneath the canvas and blue sky will be quartered in the tent. Others more discriminating and less enthusiastic about outdoor living will establish their sleeping quarters in the principal hotels.

In the advance guard arriving in the River City Saturday, were Perry D. Knapp, ex-police chief of Toledo, and Major General in command of Department of Ohio Patriarchs Militant; Fred H. A. Hahn, adjutant general of Toledo, Captain A. J. Kensinger, of Bryan, C. L. Pugh, a prominent attorney of Columbus, and grand patriarch of the Grand Encampment, arrived in the city Saturday morning.

W. August Eberly, of Wooster, O., was also an early arrival, as was Captain George W. Schuser, of Cambridge. Several other members of Captain Schaser's Canton are expected to arrive tonight at midnight and will go into camp at once.

Religious services for the patriarch militants will be conducted Sunday afternoon by Chaplain of Patriarchs Militant Lieutenant Colonel J. Benjamin Meyers either at All Saints church or in York Park. Chaplain Meyers is rector of an Episcopal church in Columbus. Following the religious services, a band concert will be held.

Delegates arriving Saturday night and Sunday and Monday will be welcomed by the local Odd Felows and their headquarters arranged. Many of them are expected to quarter at the Washington Hotel.

Monday morning Department Council will convene in the Odd Fellows hall corner of Fifth and Court streets. The entire day will be devoted to the meeting of the Council Patriarchs Militant. Another important meeting is to be held at the Red Mens' hall, Fourth and Court streets, Monday evening.

All branches of the order will assemble at the I. O. O. F. temple, Tuesday morning to form a march to the high school, where the opening exercises of the Grand Encampment will be held. The public is cordially invited to attend these exercises. A return march to the Ben Hur hall will be made for a secret session of the grand encampment.

Tuesday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock all branches of the order are to assemble at the Temple to form for parade to the camp ground where the Decoration of Chivalry will be conferred by Camp Orient.

This degree is to be conferred in public and all Portsmouth citizens are invited to attend. The presentation of a silver loving cup to the degree staff of Canton Encampment No. 23 by Grand Patriarch John C. L. Pugh will follow the Decoration of Chivalry. The response to the presentation will be made by Past Grand Master Goodrich. Tuesday evening Orient Encampment will meet in the I. O. O. F. Temple and will confer the royal purple degree. Woman Is Burned

A leaky burner attached to the gasoline stove of Mrs. Lenn Schmidt, who resides on Kendall avenue, is blamed for burns sustained by Mrs. Schmidt when the stove exploded Saturday morning. When a match was applied to the burner Mrs. Schmidt was enveloped in flames that threatened to set fire to her home. Mrs. Schmidt smothered the flames with a rug. Both of her arms and hands were painfully burned and the force of the explosion wrecked the stove.

Must Quit Dumping Refuse Along River

Mayor Adam Frick made an inspection tour of the river front Friday evening and came away determined to put an end to practices that tend to mar its beauty.

The mayor has ordered William Gergens, director of public service, to notify all property owners and residents of Front street to cease making a dumping ground of the river bank and to permit them to deposit only such material as will make a solid earth fill. The mayor found that many people were in a habit of dumping garbage and other unwholesome refuse on the bank and if this condition is allowed to exist it will not only detract from the appearance of the grade but prove a serious menace to health as well.

RAY HAD A GOOD TIME

South Portsmouth, Ky., July 10.
Editor Portsmouth Times.

Dear Sir:—I have just returned from a visit to my grandma's in Claremore, Okla. I was accompanied on the trip by my papa and mamma, three sisters, and little brother. I wish to say that I enjoyed my trip out west, for I saw so many nice things going and coming on the train, and also during my stay in Oklahoma. I saw the most wheat and oats on the prairie in Oklahoma that I ever saw at once. I went fishing on the Verdigris river. It was given this name by the Indians. It is a narrow stream, but very deep, about 40 rods wide. There is lots of fish of all kinds in it. I stopped at the Big Lake, an inland lake of fresh water, one-half mile from the river I have just written about. This is a fishing place for people from the town nearby. The country is thinly settled yet. There is one house on each 160 acres average. Oklahoma is a fine stock and farming country. It is very common to see a thousand to three thousand head of cattle in one pasture or there. I hope that I can spend my vacation next summer in Sunny Oklahoma. I will close for this time. Please publish this letter for me, and I will try to do better next time that I write.

Respectfully yours,

RAY BURNS.

Ex-Chief Knapp Makes Big Hit

General Perry Knapp, the department commander of Odd Fellows, has already made a hit with everybody who has come in contact with him since his arrival from Toledo, Thursday night.

General Knapp lacked but a short time of rounding out 25 years as chief of police of Toledo and was placed on the retired list with a pension of $80 per month, though he wished to complete his quarter of a century of active service. His first six months of retirement almost gave him "the willies" but he has become reconciled to the change and now finds his greatest pleasure in looking after the general welfare of the order of which he is proud to be a state commander.

COLLIER "STORSTAD" IS HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR TERRIBLE SEA DISASTER

Quebec, Canada, July 11.—The collier Storstad is held to blame for the Empress of Ireland disaster in which 1032 lives were lost, according to findings of the wreck commission handed down today.

The commission holds that the disaster was due to the Storstad's change of course by the third officer without instructions from the first officer, who was in charge of the collier at the time.

The Empress was sunk in the St. Lawrence, May 29. The St. Lawrence waterway is relieved of all blame, the report stating that such a disaster might have occurred anywhere else under similar circumstances.

Of the many recent sea disasters, the sinking of the Empress of Ireland was the most horrifying and appalling in loss of life since the Titanic crashed into an iceberg and 1490 lives were lost.

The commission found the report divided on some parts. The board of inquiry found that the Storstad ported her helm and thus brought about the accident. The commission found that Capt. Kendall's action in stopping the liner was good seamanship, but his failure to give a wide berth formed a contributory cause for the collision. The inquiry into the disaster was begun in Quebec June 16th by a commission composed of Lord Mersey, former presiding justice of British Admiralty court; Sir Adolfo Routhier, of Quebec, and Chief Justice McLeod, of New Brunswick.

A. B. C. MEDIATORS WAITING ON CARRANZA

Washington, July 11.—Until Carranza's definite refusal to discuss a provisional government with Huerta's delegates reaches here, the A. B. C. mediators will decline to discuss its effects on the mediation plans. Word has been received here that Carranza is preparing a statement and it will be in the hands of the mediators Monday evening or Tuesday. The question of protecting foreigners in Mexico City has been settled so far as this government is concerned. No American marines or army men will be sent to the capital. The battleships of Germany, France and England are well armed and equipped and it is believed they can protect themselves if necessary.

MINERS AND OPERATORS REACH AN AGREEMENT

Columbus, O., July 11.—Another important step toward complete agreement between Ohio coal operators and miners was taken today when miners' representatives in convention here ratified the proposed agreement for a scale of 67.6 cents per ton on pick mined coal. Several minor points in the compromise proposal will be ratified this afternoon officials say.

DRINK-CRAZED HUERTA IS PREPARING TO FLEE

BULLETIN

Washington, July 11.—Information was received from Mexican diplomats today saying General Huerta would resign in two or three days in favor of Francisco Carbajal, newly appointed minister of foreign affairs.

Vera Cruz, July 11.—It is believed that Huerta will flee from the capital at the approach of the constitutionalists. Generals Villa, Obregon and Gonzalles will concentrate for the march on the capital in a few days. They will have a force of 50,000 men to oppose Huerta's army of far less than half that number. The fall of Huerta is now considered certain here, but no one will hazard a guess on the stability of the government that will succeed Huerta, ed in power with whom the constitutionalists might feel disposed to treat. Carbajal is a member of the class which supported Huerta but is regarded as having liberal sympathies.

He was the peace envoy whom General Porfirio Diaz sent to Juarez in 1911 and arranged with Madero for the transfer of power to the successful revolutionists. It is believed here that Carbajal will endeavor to arrange terms of peace which would be virtually terms of surrender.

Naming of Carbajal May Bring Peace

It was learned that the appointment of Carbajal to the foreign office yesterday is part of a general program by which it is hoped to make peace with the constitutionalists.

The Huerta delegates to the Niagara Falls conference are understood to be awaiting this move for several days. Carbajal has long been a member of the supreme court of Mexico and on May 31 last was elected chief justice. Realizing that the constitutionalist generals would disprove the plan peace conference which General Huerta proposed with the mediators because they did not wish to have dealings in any form with Huerta, the suggestion was made to the Huerta group that another man be plac-

CARRANZA SHOWS HE'S A POLITICIAN

Torreon, Mex., July 11.—At the Carranza-Villa conciliation conference at Torreon an effort to prevent General Carranza or any of the military leaders of the revolution from welcoming a candidate for the presidency or vice presidency failed to be adopted, according to a lengthy official statement issued today. The motion was made by the Villa delegates.

A motion passed, however, demanding that the first chief as president ad interim at the triumph of the revolution should call a convention of delegates representing the rebel army, every 1000 soldiers to be represented by one delegate selected by a commission of military chiefs to be approved by the generals of the division who would fix the dat and arrange for the election.

Evacuation Reports A Little Premature

Saltillo, Mex., July 11.—Previous reports that the port of Guyamas had been evacuated by the federals were in error, according to advices today from General Alvaredo, commanding the constitutionalists besieging that city. Alvaredo reported he has moved his forces so as to surround Guyamas completely on the land and coast.

It is Just Natural To Admire Babies

Our natural instinct ... love for the cooing infant. And at the same time the subject of motherhood is ever before us. To know what to do that will add to the physical comfort of expectant motherhood is a subject that has interested most women of all times. One of the real helpful things is an external abdominal application sold in most drug stores under the name of "Mother's Friend." We have known so many grandmothers, who in their younger days relied upon this remedy, and who recommend it to their own daughters that it certainly must be what its name indicates. They have used it for its direct influence upon the muscles, cords, ligaments and tendons as it aims to afford relief from the strain and pain so often unnecessarily severe during the period of expectancy.

Every woman should mention "Mother's Friend" when the stork is the subject of conversation. An interesting little book is mailed free upon application to Bradfield Regulator Co., 403 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It refers to many things that women like to read about.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Don't stay gray! Nobody can tell when you darken gray, faded hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.
